

Appendix 7

Visual assessment of density

Visual assessment is the simplest way to determine weed density. It is quick and easy and useful for smaller sites and most species, but it can be subjective. To improve the accuracy of visual assessments please refer to the figure, which gives you an idea of how different weed densities, as a percentage of ground cover, may look. Note how dense a cover of 50% appears.

Source: CRC, 2003a

% groundcover

